

This week was the Week of Respect. All week at JTMS we have been encouraging students to show respect and kindness and to stand up against bullying. Please view these four short videos that your child has seen during Flex classes this week. We encourage you to discuss the important messages that these videos convey. Thank you for your support.